

Paulus The Cabaret Geek

Victoria Wood & Me

Talk Description

Paulus watched Victoria Wood on television with his Mum since the age of ten. Now he has created a show celebrating her musical genius. Includes Victoria Wood songs played on Paulus' trusty ukulele, Mabel (pictured below).

Fees

Paulus charges a flat fee of £170 to cover talk and train, tube and bus travel. A lift to and from your nearest station would prevent having to add taxi fares on top of this. Talks can also be delivered via ZOOM for £85.00

Requirements

Paulus' round-trip to appear as your speaker is typically around 6hrs in length. He requires 45mins to prepare and get changed in an appropriate 'dressing room' with a table and chair and electrical plug socket, where he can safely keep his valuables during the talk. A toilet is not acceptable. Nor is a store cupboard with mouse traps and no heating (yes, these things have happened). Bottled water or a cup of tea is always appreciated.
